

Walk on Country inspires arts program

As part of the arts consultation for the redevelopment of Liverpool Hospital, the project team joined clinical representatives from Liverpool Hospital to participate in a 'Walk on Country' event held at Sandy Point Community Centre.

Leaders from the Gandangara Local Aboriginal Land Council took the team on a journey through Aboriginal history, culture and to various places along the Georges River – including a bushwalk on country, participating in a yarning circle, a smoking ceremony, and eating delicious damper!

The team gained an understanding of the stories and heritage of the land from the local Aboriginal community as part of the consultation for the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct arts program.

Redevelopment Director Karinn Marrone said the event was a great day and a fantastic opportunity to experience the Aboriginal culture of the region.

“Thank you to the District’s Aboriginal Services Deputy Director Karen Beetson and the Gandangara Local Aboriginal Land Council for sharing their culture and history with us in this important event.”

Construction news

Now that we've reached the highest point in construction, fit out works have begun inside the new building including walls going up and key services installed for each of the departments.

The project team has begun taking staff on familiarisation walks which include visiting their future work spaces. The Pathology Department team members were taken through their future space which will be located in the new building. We look forward to sharing our progress in coming months.

Engaging with local communities

Members from the Vietnamese Women's Association heard about the exciting project from one of our valued hospital staff members Registered Nurse Binh Tran from the Neurology Department who presented in Vietnamese.

The group was able to ask a variety of questions including where the new main entrance will be and what new departments were being built.

Our new emergency theatre was recently commissioned delivering the latest advanced technology to Liverpool Hospital
